Jacqueline Cummins is a senior law clerk, who works across diverse files, with particular focus on corporate and commercial litigation. Drawing on deep experience, and expertise in electronic discovery, she supports our clients and lawyers with thoughtful and incisive research, discovery and planning.

Jacqueline served on the board at the Institute of Law Clerks of Ontario for 10 years, and was also co-chair of the education department, where she was overseeing a course curriculum that focused on the substantive principles of legal practice and procedure.
